ORIGIN OF THE COLLEGE.

In Nomine Dei, Amen.

Alma College is the outgrowth of a feeling among the Presbyterians of Michigan that they must have an institution of learning distinctively their own and equal to the best.

While it was founded by, and is under the care of, the Synod of Michigan, it is not a sectarian school; but in the broadest sense consistent with high moral and religious culture, it is a Christian College. A paragraph or two from its first records may be expected here by those who shall come after us.

At a meeting of the Synod of Michigan, held in Grand Rapids, October 14, 1886, the following resolution was adopted:

“Resolved, That in view of all the facts brought before us we will, with God’s help, establish and endow a college within our bounds.”

A Board of Trustees was also elected to which the power was given of filling vacancies until the next meeting of Synod, and of adding to its members not to exceed five persons.

Two notable gifts decided the matter of establishing a college and fixing its location: The first of fifty thousand dollars from Alexander Folsom, Esq., of Bay City, Mich., and the second of land and buildings valued at forty thousand dollars, situated in the village of Alma, Gratiot county, Mich., the gift of A. W. Wright, Esq., and the people of Alma.

In addition to the above the College received by bequest from the late Alexander Folsom the generous gift of thirty thousand dollars.

ALMA COLLEGE.

Organization.

The College embraces seven Departments of Instruction: Collegiate, Preparatory, Kindergarten Training, Commercial, Music, Art and Evangelistic Training.

THE COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

I. THE COURSES OF STUDY.

There are Four Courses of Study, each extending through four years:

1. The Classical Course, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts.
 2. The Philosophical Course, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy.
 3. The Scientific Course, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science.
 4. The Literary Course, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Letters.

II. THE REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

1. Candidates for the Freshman Class must be prepared for examination in all the studies of the corresponding course of the Preparatory Department, and in the requisites for admission to that course.

2. Examination will be waived in the case of applicants who present certificates of graduation from the Preparatory Department, or from any High School having equivalent courses. Examination may also be waived in particular studies upon the presentation of a satisfactory certificate from the school in which such studies were pursued.

3. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined on the subjects previously studied by the classes they desire to enter, except in the case of undergraduates of other institutions who present letters of honorable dismissal, and also careful statements, duly verified, of the studies pursued and the credits received therein.

4. Students desiring to pursue select studies will be admitted to such classes only as they are found prepared to enter.

5. Candidates who are slightly deficient may be received conditionally, with the understanding that the deficiency shall be made up within a year.

6. Examinations for admission will be held on Friday, June 12, and on Tuesday, September 8, beginning at 9 o'clock a. m.

III. METHODS AND COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.

Latin Language and Literature.

PROFESSOR MARY C. GELSTON.

Some of the aims of the work in this department are mastery of forms and constructions, a vocabulary as large as possible and the greatest possible facility in its use, and a knowledge of how to study the masterpieces of literature. Special elective and seminary work is provided for.

The standard of work is that of the best colleges in the country. This will be maintained, for only thus can true culture and refinement of literary taste be obtained. The study of the language and literature of the "greatest of the nations" develops these better than any other single study, for Latin is the basis of a broad and liberal education.

The following College courses are offered:

I. Selections from Cicero; Studies in Roman History; Prose Composition. Three hours a week.

II. Livy; Prose Composition. Three hours a week.

III. Horace—Odes, Satires, Epistles; Roman Literature. Three hours a week.

IV. Vergil—Eclogues; Plautus, or Selections from Catullus and Propertius; Roman Literature. Three hours a week.

V. The Roman Drama—Plautus; Terence. Three hours a week.

VI. Philosophy among the Romans—Lucretius; Cicero.

VII. Roman Rhetoric and Oratory—Cicero; Quintilian. Three hours a week.

VIII. Roman History and Law—Tacitus; Justinian.

Courses I, II, III and IV are required of candidates for the degrees of A. B. and Ph. B.; the others are elective. Courses I, III, V and VI are given during the First Semester; courses II, IV, VII and VIII, during the Second Semester.

Greek Language and Literature.

PROFESSOR J. T. EWING.

The object of the course of instruction in Greek is to aid the student in acquiring an accurate and thorough knowledge of the etymology, syntax and usages of the language, some familiarity with the works of the best authors, and an appreciative understanding of the spirit and worth of Greek culture and life. In connection with the reading of typical authors, especial attention is paid to the geography, history, and political and social institutions of the Greeks and to their formative influence upon modern literature, philosophy and art. The great service of the language to Christianity in the preservation and defense of Gospel truth is dwelt upon in connection with the reading of Hellenistic Greek.

The modern pronunciation is employed and the attempt is made to present the language as a living one. Constant drill in sight reading and in oral and written composition is relied upon to give accuracy and readiness in the use of the language.

The following College courses are offered:

I. Lysias; Xenophon (Hellenica); Greek History; Reading at sight; Prose Composition. Four hours a week.

II. Homer (Iliad); Reading at sight; Prose Composition; Greek Literature. Four hours a week.

III. Herodotus and Thucydides (selections); Demosthenes (selections); Studies in Politics and History; Reading at sight. Four hours a week.

IV. Æschylus and Aristophanes (selections); Studies in the Drama and in Social Life; Reading at sight. Four hours a week.

V. Plato; Aristotle; History of Greek Philosophy. Three hours a week.

VI. Classical Archæology. Three hours a week.

VII. New Testament Greek. Three hours a week.

VIII. Lucian; Theocritus. Three hours a week.

Courses I, II, III and IV, taken in their order, are required of candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts; the others are elective.

Courses I, III, V and VII are given during the First Semester; courses II, IV, VI and VIII, during the Second Semester.

Mathematics.

DR. BROOKS AND PROF. J. W. EWING.

Our aim in these studies is three-fold: First, to secure to the student such knowledge as will be directly available in practical life; secondly, to prepare the way for those higher studies which are essential to a liberal education; and thirdly, to give that intellectual discipline—especially that development of the reasoning faculty—which is the fundamental purpose of collegiate training, and which may be more easily and more fully secured through the study of Mathematics than in any other way.

The first of these aims is necessarily more prominent in the early part of the course than at a later period, but even then does not exclude the others. We purpose to teach Arithmetic, not as a collection of rules to be committed to memory and applied in a spirit of blind obedience, but by accustoming the pupil to see what the conditions of each problem demand, and to solve the problem by what he sees to be its necessary law. Arithmetic so taught is more than a discipline of the memory; it greatly develops the logical faculty.

To preparatory Algebra we assign two years, believing that so generous an allowance will enable the average student to be perfectly at home in the application of principles, as well as to understand each new principle as it is brought to his notice. In Algebra, as in all other subdivisions of this department, we design to teach the science rather than any particular text-book.

During the last year of preparation for college, there are five recitations a week in Geometry, and we are thus able to include in the year's work Solid and Spherical as well as Plane Geometry. The reasoning is constantly kept in the attention of the student as a chief thing, without which he will simply acquire so many facts to be treasured in the memory.

The Algebra and Geometry of the Preparatory course are supplemented by further study in the Freshman year.

Analytical Geometry and the Differential and Integral Calculus complete the preparation for Mechanics and Astronomy in the following years.

The following College courses are offered:

I. Plane and Spherical Trigonometry. Four hours a week.

II. Higher Algebra. Four hours a week.

III. Analytical Geometry. Three hours a week.

IV. Analytical Geometry (continuation of course III.) Three hours a week.

V. Differential and Integral Calculus. Three hours a week.

VI. Calculus (continuation of course V.) Three hours a week.

Courses I, III and V are given during the First Semester; courses II, IV and VI during the Second Semester. Courses V and VI are elective. Students in the Classical and Literary Courses may elect Biology I and II in place of Mathematics III and IV.

English Language and Literature.

THE PRESIDENT AND DR. BROOKS.

The study of one's own language lies very near the foundation of a good education, and its place cannot be supplied by any study of mathematics or science. We have therefore provided for constant attention to the English language, including Rhetoric and a comprehensive history of English Literature during the whole of the Preparatory course.

The study of Rhetoric in its more scientific aspects is continued in the Sophomore year, and at the same time the rhetorical exercises of the class are made to illustrate and put in practice the various technical methods learned.

The Junior class pursues the study of English Literature during the entire year. Attention is specially given to the great writers who have won a prominent place as masters of the English language.

Elective courses are also offered, different in different years, and including the Literature of the Eighteenth Century, the Literature of the Nineteenth Century, American Literature, and Greek and Roman Literature in English translations, designed especially for students in the Scientific and Literary Courses.

During the whole course the student is led to develop his own critical judgment and to express the results of his study in frequent discussions and essays.

The College courses are as follows:

I. English Language, Rhetoric as an art; Style; Expression, including Rhetoricals. Three hours a week.

II. English Language, Rhetoric; Theory; Invention; Criticism, including Rhetoricals. Three hours a week.

III. Masterpieces of English. Three hours a week.

IV. Early English Literature. Three hours a week.

V. Literature of the 18th Century. Three hours a week.

VI. Literature of the 19th Century. Three hours a week.

VII. Greek and Roman Literature. Three hours a week.

VIII. American Literature. Three hours a week.

Courses I, III, V and VII are given during the First Semester; courses II, IV, VI and VIII, during the Second Semester.

Courses I to IV are required of all candidates for a degree; the others are elective.

History.

DR. BROOKS.

The College aims at furnishing to its students as large an opportunity for acquiring a knowledge of History as is consistent with the claims of other studies. A year in the Preparatory course is given to the History of the United States, and a semester to General History. In the College courses there is provision for three years of History. The intention is to encourage a taste for historical study in general, by a careful examination of particular periods and of the history of nations most prominent in the world's progress.

The College courses are as follows:

- I. The History of England. Three hours a week.
- II. The History of France. Three hours a week.
- III. The Constitutional History of the United States. Three hours a week.
- IV. Early Mediæval History. Three hours a week.
- V. Later Mediæval History. Three hours a week.
- VI. The Nineteenth Century. Three hours a week.
- VII. The Protestant Reformation. Three hours a week.

Courses I, III, IV and VI are given during the First Semester; courses II, V and VII, during the Second Semester.

Courses I and II are required of all candidates for a degree; the others are elective, and are offered in alternate years, IV and V in 1896-97.

Physics.

PROFESSOR J. W. EWING.

The course in Physics comprises four semesters' work for students in all the courses of study, as follows: two in the second Preparatory and two in the Junior Collegiate years. The principles of the science are discussed before the class and illustrated by general experiments, after which the student is required to perform similar experiments, making his own computations and measurements and entering the results neatly in his note book. By this method correct habits of thought are formed and a practical knowledge of the subject is acquired.

The College courses are as follows:

I. Mechanics, Hydrostatics, Heat. Three hours a week.
First Semester.

II. Electricity, Acoustics, Optics. Three hours a week.
Second Semester.

Chemistry.

PROFESSOR DAVIS.

The aim of the course in Chemistry is to teach the student how to work intelligently and thus how to study the science to advantage.

Beginning with the metals, the appearance, characteristics, compounds, qualitative tests, etc., of each are carefully investigated in the laboratory and as carefully noted. So much of the theory of Chemistry is discussed and illustrated as will enable the student to fully understand what he sees and does. Following this, the non-metallic elements are studied and more elaborate experiments are performed. The student is required to make such special apparatus as he requires in this part of the work, from materials furnished for the purpose. Finally, courses in Quantitative Analysis and Mineralogy are provided for students in the Scientific Course.

The College courses are as follows:

I. General Chemistry: Laboratory work and lectures.
Three hours a week.

II. Qualitative Analysis. Three hours a week.

III. Quantitative Analysis. Three hours a week.

IV. Descriptive and Determinative Mineralogy. Three hours a week.

Courses I and III are given during the First Semester, courses II and IV, during the Second Semester.

Courses I and II are required in all courses of study except the Classical; the others are elective.

Biology.

PROFESSOR DAVIS.

The object of the course in Biology is to quicken the student's power in observation and thought, and to make him an independent investigator. With this end in view the work in Zoology is done mainly in the laboratory. Familiar type animals are taken up in the beginning and carefully studied, and as the student becomes accustomed to the methods of work, those less familiar are worked up. At every stage the student is required to make dissections, to keep a careful record of his work and to make drawings from the object which he is studying. The elements of classification are taught, and the attention of the student is constantly turned to the general characters of the type which he is studying. The work in Botany begins with the study of the morphology and general characters of flowering plants. The flora of the region is carefully studied and the student is encouraged to investigate the habits of plants which come under his observation. In the advanced course the work is entirely in the field and in the laboratory.

The work in Geology is, as far as possible, done in the field, but the theories of the science and geological history are taught from the text book and by means of lectures illustrated by specimens of charts and models.

Human Anatomy and Physiology are taught by the aid of text book, charts, models, and, as far as possible, by dissections.

The College courses are as follows:

- I. Zoology; Laboratory work. Three hours a week.
- II. Botany; Field and Laboratory work. Three hours a week.
- III. Astronomy. Three hours a week.
- IV. Geology. Three hours a week.
- V. Botany, Advanced. Three hours a week.

VI. Histology. Three hours a week.

VII. Zoology, Advanced. Three hours a week.

Courses I, III, V and VI are given during the First Semester; courses II, IV and VII, during the Second Semester.

Courses I, II, III and IV are required in one or other of the regular courses of study.

Courses V, VI and VII are general electives.

Modern Languages.

MISS CHURCH.

The work in Modern Languages is arranged with the design of giving a thorough grammatical and conversational knowledge of German and French. The first year's work is devoted to elementary grammar and conversation. The second year is devoted to grammar with special reference to syntax, the reading of representative authors, conversation and sight reading.

The following College courses are offered:

GERMAN.

I. German Dramas—Schiller's Don Carlos. Four hours a week.

II. Prose Masterpieces—Goethe's Wilhelm Meister. Four hours a week.

III. General Survey of German History. Three hours a week.

IV. General Survey of German Literature. Three hours a week.

FRENCH.

I. Modern Prose Writers and Idiomatic Translations. Four hours a week.

II. French Dramatists—Racine, Corneille, Moliere. Four hours a week.

III. General Survey of French History. Three hours a week.

IV. General Survey of French Literature. Three hours a week.

Courses I and II in each language are required of candidates for all degrees except A. B. One year of Modern Language may be elected by classical students in place of Chemistry I and II.

Courses I and III are given during the First Semester; courses II and IV, during the Second Semester.

Mental and Moral Philosophy.

DR. BROOKS.

The course in Philosophy begins in the Junior year with the study of Ethics, followed by Logic. The forms of argument, the laws of thought and general principles of method are carefully studied. The work in this department is made as practical as possible, and the principles learned are at once applied to the construction of discourse.

In the Senior year the study of Psychology is taken up during the first semester. The study of the history of Philosophy is offered as an elective during the second semester of the Senior year.

The College courses are as follows:

- I. Ethics. Three hours a week.
- II. Logic. Three hours a week.
- III. Psychology. Three hours a week.
- IV. History of Philosophy. Three hours a week.

Courses I and III are given during the First Semester; courses II and IV, during the Second Semester.

Political Science.

DR. BROOKS.

This begins with the study of Political Economy and the application of its principles to the practical questions of social, civil and business affairs.

A course in International Law is offered as an elective in the first semester of the Senior year.

In this department each student will be required to present his own thoughts upon some assigned portion of the study in a written thesis, at least once during the year.

The College courses are as follows:

- I. Political Economy. Three hours a week.
- II. International Law. Three hours a week.

Course I is given during the Second Semester; course II, during the First Semester.

The Bible and Religion.

THE PRESIDENT.

Since the religious faculties are the highest and noblest, their training has been given the place of first importance. The course covers instruction in the Books of the Bible, the Geography of the Bible, the Biography of the Bible, the Life of Jesus, the Apostolic Church, the Evidences of Christianity and Natural Theology.

The instruction here given is in the broadest sense Christian. Nothing of a sectarian character is admitted. The purpose is to build up intelligent Christian manhood. We believe that this is the greatest need of our time.

The following College courses are offered.

- I. The Life of Jesus Christ. One hour a week.
- II. The Apostolic Church. One hour a week.
- III. The Evidences of Christianity. Three hours a week.
- IV. Natural Theology. Three hours a week.

Pedagogics.

PROF. J. W. EWING AND DR. BROOKS.

Instruction in Pedagogics is offered to Juniors and Seniors in accordance with an act of the Legislature of Michigan authorizing the State Board of Education to grant a teacher's certificate, without examination, to any person who has received a Bachelor's, Master's or Doctor's degree from any college in this state having a course of study actually taught in such college of not less than four years, in addition to the preparatory work necessary for admission to Michigan University, and including a course in the Science and Art of Teaching of at least one college year of five and a half hours per week.

This course embraces professional work in Applied Psychology, History of Education, School Law, School Systems, including a study of the educational systems of several of the states, and of Germany, France and England; special methods in common branches, including the Kindergarten; the organization and management of public schools.

Graduates from any of the college courses who complete this course of professional work will be recommended by the Faculty to the State Board of Education for a teacher's certificate, which will entitle them to teach in the public schools of Michigan without further examination.

The following courses are offered:

- I. Psychology, Applied. Two hours a week.
- II. School Management. Two hours a week.
- III. History of Education. Two hours a week.
- IV. Special methods in common branches, including music and science teaching. Three hours a week.
- V. Principles of Teaching and Theory of the Kindergarten. One hour a week.
- VI. Study of School Law and School Systems. One hour a week.

Courses I, III and VI are given during the First Semester; courses II, IV and V, during the Second Semester.

I. OBJECT.

The object of this Department is to afford the necessary facilities for securing an exact and adequate preparation for college work, and also to meet the needs of those who desire to enjoy the benefits of a thorough academic training in preparation for life's work.

To realize fully this two-fold object, great care has been taken to provide skilled instruction. The students in this Department are guided in their work by instructors of wide experience and full knowledge of the subjects they teach. The development of mental and moral power in the student is preferred to the mere attainment of knowledge.

II. COURSES OF STUDY.

Four courses are provided that severally lead up to the corresponding courses of the Collegiate Department, viz: The Classical, Philosophical, Scientific and Literary. Each of these courses, however, is complete in itself and may be pursued with profit by the student with limited time and means for gaining an education.

In addition a Normal course is provided, extending through four years, which gives its graduates ample preparation for securing first grade certificates. Diplomas will be given students who graduate from any of the above courses.

III. REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the First Year Class must be able to sustain an examination in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic, the elements of English Grammar and common school Geography. Candidates for higher standing will be examined in the studies previously pursued by the classes they desire to enter.

IV. SPECIAL ADVANTAGES.

In addition to the benefit of receiving a course of instruction under the direction of an able and experienced Faculty, the students have free use of a reading room well supplied with the current literature and of a library containing 14,000 volumes. They have access, also, to well equipped laboratories in the study of the sciences.

Students who have not had the opportunity to make full preparation, especially in the languages, to enter college, will have excellent facilities in this Department for making up the deficiency. They can enter any class they are fitted for and pursue those studies in which they are deficient until they reach a point where they can be regularly classified.

During the fourth year a course of reading on educational topics will be required, under the direction of the Principal of the Department.

The Entrance Requirements in English are in accordance with the recommendations of "The Michigan Association of Colleges," at the meeting May 25, 1895. These recommendations were as follows:

1. That the several Colleges of the Association in their Entrance Requirements in English conform to the recommendations of "The English Conference of the Eastern and Middle States," as given below.

2. Further, that in these requirements they seek to develop in the pupils of the secondary schools the power of extemporaneous speaking.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS.

NOTE. -- No candidate will be accepted in English whose work is notably defective in point of spelling, punctuation, idiom, or division into paragraphs.

1. Reading.—A certain number of books will be set for reading. The candidate will be required to present evidence of a general knowledge of the subject matter, and to answer simple questions on the lives of the authors. The form of examination will usually be the writing of a paragraph or two on each of several topics, to be chosen by the candidate from a considerable number—perhaps ten or fifteen—set before him in the examination paper. The treatment of these topics is designed to test the candidate's power of clear and accurate expression, and will call for only a general knowledge of the substance of the books. In place of a part or the whole of the test, the candidate may present an exercise book, properly certified by his instructor, containing compositions or other written work done in connection with the reading of the books.

The books set for this part of the examination will be:

1896: Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream; Defoe's History of the Plague in London; Irving's Tales of a Traveller; Scott's Woodstock; Macaulay's Essay on Milton; Longfellow's Evangeline; George Eliot's Silas Marner.

1897: Shakespeare's As You Like It; Defoe's History of the Plague in London; Irving's Tales of a Traveller; Hawthorne's Twice Told Tales; Longfellow's Evangeline; George Eliot's Silas Marner.

1898: Milton's Paradise Lost, Books I and II; Pope's Iliad, Books I and XXII; The Sir Roger de Coverley Papers in the Spectator; Goldsmith's The Vicar of Wakefield; Coleridge's Ancient Mariner; Southey's Life of Nelson; Carlyle's Essay on Burns; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal; Hawthorne's The House of the Seven Gables.

1899: Dryden's Palamon and Arcite; Pope's Iliad, Books I, VI, XXII and XXIV; The Sir Roger de Coverley Papers in the Spectator; Goldsmith's The Vicar of Wakefield; Coleridge's Ancient Mariner; De Quincey's The Flight of a Tartar Tribe; Cooper's Last of the Mohicans; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal; Hawthorne's The House of the Seven Gables.

1900: Dryden's Palamon and Arcite; Pope's Iliad, Books I, VI, XXI and XXII; Goldsmith's The Vicar of Wakefield; Scott's Ivanhoe; De Quincey's The Flight of a Tartar Tribe; Cooper's Last of the Mohicans; Tennyson's The Princess; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal.

II. Practice.—This part of the examination presupposes the thorough study of each of the works named below. The examination will be upon subject-matter, form and structure.

The books set for this part of the examination will be:

1896: Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice; Milton's L'Allegro, Il Penseroso, Comus, and Lycidas; Webster's First Bunker Hill Oration.

1897: Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; Scott's Marmion; Macaulay's Life of Samuel Johnson.

1898: Shakespeare's Macbeth; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; De Quincey's The Flight of a Tartar Tribe; Tennyson's The Princess.

1899: Shakespeare's Macbeth; Milton's Paradise Lost, Books I and II; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; Carlyle's Essay on Burns.

1900: Shakespeare's Macbeth; Milton's Paradise Lost, Books I and II; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; Macaulay's Essays on Milton and Addison.

KINDERGARTEN TRAINING DEPARTMENT.

MARY D. PLUM, Principal.

I. AIM.

This department aims to graduate earnest, intelligent and practical Kindergartners and Primary School teachers. Those intending to enter are expected to do so at the beginning of the College year and, if possible, to be ready the first day.

II. REQUIREMENTS.

Applicants should be at least eighteen years of age; none under eighteen will be admitted unless by special permission. Students should have had a high school course or its equivalent. Some ability to sing, good health, love for children, and general culture are essential.

Students are expected to observe and practice in the Kindergarten. When called upon to recommend students for positions, we must know from observation that they are competent to carry out in practice the theory of the class-room.

III. SPECIAL FEATURES.

A Kindergarten, conducted daily. Members of the Training Class are not only permitted to act as assistants under the Principal's supervision, but are occasionally permitted to act as Director in her presence. Connecting class work practically illustrated.

Special emphasis laid upon the great value of Kindergarten work as an educational and religious power in Mission work.

Ten weeks' work in Art Department, vocal classes, special lectures, Kindergarten section in the library.

THE COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

AMOS W. BECKNER, Principal.

CHARLES W. SIDEBOTHAM, Assistant.

I. OBJECT.

The object of this Department is to furnish young men and women with such knowledge of business, its principles, practices and laws, as will enable them to enter with confidence upon the duties of the business world, and to become good business men and women and intelligent citizens.

II. COURSES OF STUDY.

Two courses of study are provided, viz: Business and Shorthand.

III. REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

For entrance into the Business course, candidates are not subjected to a rigorous examination, but they are expected to be able to read and spell well and to have a fair knowledge of the elements of Arithmetic and English Grammar.

For entrance into the Shorthand course, candidates are required to be able to pass a satisfactory examination in Orthography, English Grammar, U. S. History and Arithmetic.

IV. METHODS OF INSTRUCTION.

Business Course.

This course comprises those branches of study which are especially practical and of immediate value in the transaction of business. It extends over a period of two years; but students who are exceptionally quick and accurate or who have standings in some of the branches, may complete the course in less time.

Instruction is conducted on the business community plan, as outlined in the "Ellis System of Actual Business," which we use. The class is organized into a local business community. Each student enters at once into business relations with his fellows, buys and sells, makes out and exchanges all the customary papers and makes the records in his books. Property is insured; real estate is transferred; partnerships are entered into; bills and accounts are collected; and the various forms of account books are used until the student becomes familiar with them.

We have also adopted the "Goodyear System" of inter-communication between colleges. By this arrangement, our students transact business by mail with other colleges during a large part of each year. The list this year comprises thirteen colleges in nine different states. The aim of this work is to illustrate inter-state and domestic commerce. Shipping, commission, wholesale and banking businesses are very closely imitated.

Joint stock company and corporation accounting is given a good deal of attention. Companies are formed which issue stock certificates, pay dividends, make assessments, sell the bonds and transact business in the usual methods of such companies.

The entire work of the course is made as nearly real as it can be in a school.

Shorthand Course.

This course of study comprises those branches which are particularly essential to the amanuensis and reporter. The stenographer is growing into more repute and favor every year. The business world is beginning to realize the importance of his work and to employ him in various ways where dispatch is necessary. It is to prepare young men and women to meet this demand that the course in Shorthand is offered.

Students are required to attain a speed of one hundred twenty-five words per minute before they will be considered as having completed the course.

The Graham system has been adopted, because it is in such general favor among reporters.

Clementi's Gradus ad Parnassum; Cramer's Etudes; Bach's Preludes and Fugues and Suites; Beethoven's Sonatas; Chopin's Etudes; Compositions of Schumann, Raff, Henselt, Rubinstein, Liszt, etc.

Etudes and pieces are selected from the preceding list and, with appropriate technical exercises, adapted to the requirements of the individual pupil.

A talented, preserving pupil, having had an equivalent of the Preparatory grade, will be able to complete the course here specified in four college years.

Vocal Course.

Singing, Harmony, and one study in College, together with rhetorical, musical history, analysis and biography, as in course I.

GRADES I AND II.

Elements of notation and voice building; exercises in vocalization and solfeggio; breathing exercises; sight singing; easy pieces; chorus work.

GRADES III AND IV.

Exercises in vocalization and solfeggio, continued; embellishments; ballads, songs, and arias of moderate difficulty; ensemble singing: practice in sight reading.

GRADE V.

More difficult exercises in shading, expression, embellishments, etc.; interpretation; the study and building up of a church and concert repertoire; oratorio and operatic music.

No time is fixed for the completion of the course or of any grade, as so much depends upon the talent and application of the student. Candidates for graduation must be able to pass an examination in Grades I and II of the Piano course.

SIGHT SINGING.

This is probably the most important study to all who expect to become singers, being in fact the very foundation of such work. It may be pursued in either general or special classes.

ENSEMBLE SINGING.

A large chorus is maintained in which the student participates in the rendition of cantatas, operettas, set pieces, and selections from the operas and oratorios. The chapel and church choirs give opportunity for drill in rendering sacred music. Besides these, there are organized from time to time, male, treble, and mixed quartets for the benefit of the more advanced singers.

Regulations.

Members of this Department are subject to the general regulations of the College.

Pupils' recitals are given at intervals during the year for the purpose of interesting the students in their work and accustoming them to public performance.

Students are required to take two lessons a week, and this rule will not be modified except by special arrangement and at a higher rate of tuition.

No deduction is made for lessons that are missed, except in cases of protracted illness, when the loss is shared equally by the College and the pupil.

KATE L. BOOTH, Principal.

I. OBJECT.

The object of this Department is to develop the power of observation, and to train the eye and hand to produce what is seen:

First, by a thorough study in black and white from various models, casts, etc.

Second, by studies in still life, preparing for more advanced work in sketching from nature and life.

The Department is furnished with a good assortment of casts, a large addition having been made in recent years. A kiln for the firing of porcelain has also been provided, which further increases the efficiency of the Decorative Department.

II. COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

Elementary principles of Drawing and Perspective in Pencil and Charcoal.

Drawings from Objects and Casts.

Sketching from Nature in Charcoal and Water Colors.

SECOND YEAR.

Sketching and Drawing from Still Life.

Grouping and Composition.

THIRD YEAR.

Sketching from Life in Pencil and Charcoal.

Study from Nature continued.

FOURTH YEAR.

Painting from Life and Nature exclusively.

The class in sketching from nature is continued throughout the spring and fall, as the season permits. This branch of the Department, as well as sketching from life, receives special attention.

The work of the pupils will be on exhibition during Commencement Week.

It is especially desired that all students entering for a course in Art should be present at the opening of the term.

DEPARTMENT OF EVANGELISTIC TRAINING.

INSTRUCTORS.

REV. A. F. BRUSKE, D. D.,
Homiletics and the English Bible.

REV. W. F. JONES, B. D.,
Systematic Theology.

REV. KENDALL BROOKS, D. D.,
Church History.

Church Polity.

I. ORIGIN.

The General Assembly of 1893 adopted the following:

"CONSTITUTIONAL RULE NO. I.

It shall be lawful for the Presbytery, after proper examination as to his piety, knowledge of the Scriptures and ability to teach, to license as a local evangelist any male member of the church, who in the judgment of the Presbytery is qualified to teach the Gospel publicly, and who is willing to engage in such service under the direction of Presbytery. Such license shall be valid for one year, unless renewed, and such licensed local evangelist shall report to the Presbytery at least once each year, and his license may be withdrawn at any time at the pleasure of the Presbytery. The person securing such license shall not be ordained to the Gospel ministry, should he desire to enter it, until he shall have served at least four years as a local evangelist, and shall have pursued and been examined upon what would be equivalent to a three years' course of study in Theology, Homiletics, Church History, Church Polity and the English Bible, under the direction of Presbytery."

In accordance with this deliverance of the General Assembly, a committee of the Presbytery of Saginaw, on February 19th, 1894, recommended that a school for the training of local evangelists be established in connection with Alma College. The work of this school was accordingly undertaken by the College, and a number of students have entered upon the studies of the course.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Suggestions to Applicants for Admission.

To ascertain the requirements for admission to the Collegiate Department the applicant should examine the outline of the courses of study of the Preparatory Department pages 32-35. For an understanding of the nature and scope of the courses of study in the Collegiate Department, he should study the review of the courses given on pages 12-28. The Index at the end of this Catalogue will direct him to the page on which each subject is treated.

New students should arrive on Saturday or Monday before the opening of a new term, so as to conclude all necessary arrangements. A list of rooms and boarding places may be consulted in the President's office in the main College building. Lady students may repair directly to Ladies' Hall and consult the Lady Principal with regard to matters of personal interest.

Letters of inquiry may be addressed to the President, or the Lady Principal.

Admission and Dismission.

Applicants for admission to any department of the College will first report at the President's office for registration. They must present testimonials of good character, and those who are from other institutions of learning must furnish certificates of standing and honorable dismission. If they desire to enter any of the College courses, they will then report to the dean; if any of the other departments, they will report to the Principal of that department. Those who do not bring diplomas or certificates from accredited schools will then be sent to the different instructors for examination. As soon as the candidate is informed of his admission, he will repair to the Secretary of the College and pay his first semester's bill.

All students admitted to the institution will be on probation for the first three months. If during this period a longer stay is by the Faculty deemed unadvisable in the case of any student, he may be so informed privately and permitted to withdraw.

Any student may, at any time, be privately dismissed if the Faculty deem his further connection with the institution undesirable.

Any student against whom there are no unpaid bills nor charges of misconduct, is entitled to an honorable dismissal.

Studies and Examinations.

No student may take up a study out of the order prescribed in this Catalogue, or drop a study once entered upon, without the consent of the Faculty.

Examinations are held at the close of each semester and at intervals during the semester at the discretion of the instructors. The results of the semester examinations are recorded for future reference.

If at any examination the standing of a student is unsatisfactory, he shall be duly informed and notice may be sent to his parents or guardians. If there be no improvement, the student may be dismissed from the College.

Conditions must be removed within one year from the time of the examination.

Degrees and Diplomas.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred upon graduates from the Classical Course; that of Bachelor of Philosophy upon graduates from the Philosophical Course; that of Bachelor of Science upon graduates from the Scientific Course; and that of Bachelor of Letters upon graduates from the Literary Course.

A second degree in any one of the above mentioned courses will be conferred only on graduates of two years' standing who shall have pursued advanced studies under the direction of the Faculty, and given satisfactory evidence of adequate attainments.

Students who complete the prescribed course in the Preparatory, the Kindergarten Training, the Commercial, the Music, the Art, or the Evangelistic Training Department, will receive certificates of the fact.

Museum.

In the new building, the east room on the lower floor, forty by forty-five feet in dimensions, has been set apart for use as a Museum. As soon as possible, the collections of the College will be placed in cases for exhibition and made available for study. It is planned to arrange the collections with the special view of making them of the highest educational value, and it is hoped that the museum will become an important factor in the training of our students.

The collections at present embrace well selected and mounted specimens, illustrating the bird-life of the State; the Shroyer-Wilcox collection of fossils; a large collection of rocks and minerals, including many ores; a considerable number of vertebrate and invertebrate animals in alcohol; the Carrington loan collection of shells; and a large number of specimens at present unclassified.

The collection of birds was greatly added too during the year by the gift of Mr. W. S. Crawford of Detroit, who presented to the College his fine private collection of mounted Michigan and exotic birds, numbering nearly two hundred and fifty specimens. Other donations to the Museum are gratefully acknowledged, as follows:

Bur Marvin, rattlesnakes; J. B. Stevens, iron ores; Miss Hattie Hunt, ores; J. C. Gibson, Indian implements; Mrs. Harvey Wilson, Mackinaw, gull's eggs; Mr. Frank Hood, Dresden, N. Y., fossils.

The Library.

The College Library contains 14,233 volumes and a valuable collection of 10,809 pamphlets.

The collection embraces a great variety of works in Classical, English and Foreign Literatures, in Biography and History, in the various Sciences and Arts, and includes a large number of standard periodicals and works of reference. These are classified and arranged according to the Dewey system, and a complete index of authors, titles and subjects places the contents of the Library at the command of all who are in search of information upon any subject.

Immediately adjoining the Library Room is the Reading Room, supplied with forty-seven periodicals and leading journals of this country and England.

Both the Library and Reading Room are open every week day during the term from 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 1:30 P. M. to 5 P. M. During vacation they are open two or three afternoons a week.

Students may examine and use the books and periodicals during library hours and may draw one book at a time to be taken away and retained one week, and, if renewed, one week longer. All other persons are allowed to use the Library and Reading Room freely, and on the payment of an annual fee of $1, are permitted to draw books on an equal footing with the students. Transient visitors in town are charged twenty-five cents per month. Resident ministers of the gospel and their families are permitted to draw books free of charge.

The Law Library, the gift of Marcus Pollasky of Chicago, Ill., consisting of 700 volumes and occupying a separate alcove, is, during library hours, accessible to members of the bar, who are cordially invited freely to avail themselves of its privileges.

In the past year the following generous donors have made gifts to the Library:

Mr. Robert M. Zug and Miss Lydia C. Hopkins, Detroit; Heirs of Otis A. Critchett, Monroe; Rev. J. V. N. Harkness, Lansing; Gov. J. M. Ashley, Toledo, Ohio; and Mr. Lester A. Sharp, Prof. J. T. Ewing, Dr. A. F. Bruske, Mrs. W. A. Bahlke, A. J. van Page, and Mr. and Mrs. Ammi W. Wright, Alma.

Laboratories.

The equipment of the Physical Laboratory is complete for experimentation in Mechanics, Hydrostatics, Light, Heat, Sound and Electricity. The Laboratory has also been supplied with gas, water, tables and other appliances, which add very materially to its facilities for scientific work.

The Biological Laboratory is furnished with all necessary apparatus for thorough practical work. The equipment consists of a sufficient number of compound and simple microscopes, section instruments and micro-reagents, and such other accessories as are required.

The gift of seven compound microscopes and accessories from Messrs. Wright and Davis, of Saginaw, is gratefully acknowledged. The eleven-inch reflecting telescope loaned the College by Mr. C. H. Chase, of Ithaca, has been placed in a convenient position on the Campus, and work in Astronomy can now be made much more practical than heretofore.

The Chemical Laboratory is a large, well-lighted room in the basement of the main college building. It is fitted up with tables, apparatus and chemicals, and will, as arranged at present, accommodate twenty-four students. Each desk is supplied with water under pressure, re-agents and necessary apparatus. Particular attention has been given to procuring apparatus for hastening tedious processes as much as possible, and to convenience of arrangement. By gifts from Messrs. J. H. Pearson and Webster Batchelder, of Chicago, and Mr. C. H. Davis, of Saginaw, a very complete gasoline gas machine of large capacity was purchased and gas for heating and lighting purposes introduced into the laboratory. A fine spectroscope and a considerable amount of miscellaneous apparatus are among the equipments of this department.

Terms and Vacations.

Three terms comprise the college year:

A fall term of fourteen weeks, followed by the holiday vacation of two weeks.

A winter term of eleven weeks, followed by a vacation of one week.

A spring term of eleven weeks, followed by the summer vacation of eleven weeks.

For the purposes of instruction and examination only, the year is divided into two semesters of eighteen weeks each.

For the dates of the opening and closing of terms and semesters, see Announcements at the beginning of this Catalogue.

Religious Exercises.

All students are required to attend weekly exercises for the study of the Bible, devotional exercises daily in the college chapel, and public religious worship at least once on the Sabbath. Unless request is made to the contrary by parents or guardians, all students will attend worship at the Presbyterian church.

Religious Societies.

The Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations are in a flourishing condition. Their weekly prayer meetings and other stated and occasional meetings are well sustained and productive of great good. They issue an annual hand-book which gives a large amount of useful information regarding their own work and the general interests of the College.

A volunteer band for mission work is in active operation.

Literary Societies.

Five literary societies are in active operation; the Zeta Sigma and Alpha Theta, for the college students; the Adelphic and Philomathean, for the preparatory students; and the Fræbel Club, for members of the Kindergarten Department. The Zeta Sigma and Adelphic are conducted by the young men; the Alpha Theta and Philomathean, by the young women. The aim of these societies is the development of a correct literary taste and of the power of precise and ready expression.

These societies have been organized with the approval of the Faculty and are under its general care.

Ladies' Hall.

MARY C. GELSTON, Lady Principal.
MRS. MARY SCOTT, Matron.

Ladies' Hall is under the immediate supervision of the Principal, who is directly responsible for the government of the young ladies. She will assign them their rooms and room mates, change the same when deemed advisable, and have the general supervision of their personal habits and moral interests.

Any young lady wishing to enter the institution should make application to the Principal by letter and at an early date, giving age and acquirements, and stating wishes as to room, course of study, etc. Girls under fifteen years of age will not be received, except by special arrangement.

Parents and guardians are invited to communicate freely with the Principal touching the interests of their daughters and wards, so enabling her to understand and meet the peculiar needs of each student.

Lady students wishing to room outside of Ladies' Hall are required to obtain permission to do so, from the Faculty.

The rooms are arranged in suites for two students. If one student occupies a suite, the regular rent will be charged.

Necessary heavy furniture is provided, including table, book shelves, chairs, hanging lamp, bedstead, mattress, washstand, etc. Carpets and other articles of furniture may be provided by the young ladies at pleasure.

Young ladies will be expected to furnish one pair of sheets, pillow-slips and towels. If preferred, these will be furnished at a small additional expense. All bedding and linen should be marked with the owner's full name.

Easy flights of stairs connect the halls with the dining room on the first floor, and with the toilet and bath rooms in the basement.

Rooms on the second floor are $1.25 per week; rooms on the third floor 75 cents per week.

Location and Advantages.

The flourishing village of Alma is situated in Gratiot county, about thirty-six miles west of Saginaw, and very near the geographical center of the lower peninsula. Its location at the junction of the Detroit, Lansing & Northern and the Ann Arbor railroads renders it easily accessible. The town has good sewerage and an excellent system of water works, and experience proves that it is exceedingly healthful. The moral tone of the community is high, its church privileges abundant and its public school system fully organized and efficient. Those who have children to educate and who desire to surround them with the influences of home will make no mistake in choosing Alma as a place of residence.

College Buildings.

Of these there are at present five on the College campus; the main building, the ladies' hall, the library, the museum and gymnasium building, and the boiler house. The first of these contains the chapel, study hall, recitation rooms, laboratories and rooms for the Art and Music departments. The ladies' hall contains reception rooms, the dining room and suties for about thirty students. The library building contains the book room with shelving for 17,000 volumes, the reading room and the librarian's office and is handsomely finished in hardwood, and in all respects well adapted to its particular uses. These edifices are of brick and stone and have a pleasing architectural appearance. They are heated by steam from a central boiler house.

The corner-stone of the museum and gymnasium building was laid by the Synod of Michigan in Oct., 1894. The structure was finished during the present year. As its name indicates, it was designed to accomplish two purposes. Generous friends had enriched us with a great variety of specimens of Natural History. These needed a place where they could be arranged in the order of nature for the instruction of students and the pleasure of visitors. As soon as the building was finished the work of classification and arrangement began. One-half of the first floor of the structure is devoted to this purpose. Two other rooms are used, one by the President as a recitation room, the other containing lockers to be used by persons engaged in the work of the gymnasium. The latter occupies all of the upper story. By the generosity of Mr. John W. S. Pierson, of Stanton, Mich., who gave us the necessary apparatus, we were permitted to enter upon the work of physical training at once. The most encouraging results have followed these labors.

Aid for Students.

Students preparing for the ministry of the Presbyterian church can usually receive aid from the Board of Education to the amount of $80 per year.

The sons and daughters of home and foreign missionaries are granted free tuition.

A number of students can usually find employment in the village or in connection with the College. As a rule, no student who comes here prepared to do faithful work need fail of securing an education for lack of means.

The interests of students of limited means are in charge of a committee of the Faculty on aid to students, which will carefully administer any funds that may be placed in its hands for this purpose.

Permanent Scholarships.

About two years ago a beginning was made in a kind of investment not new to other Colleges. By reference to another page of the Catalogue it will be found that the regular tuition with us for one year is $30, which includes incidental expenses. If a deserving person is assisted to that amount, the privileges of the College are absolutely free to him. He will then have to meet only the regular expenses of living. To many, such an amount of help means the only open door to an education. By investing $500.00 at 6 per cent this is secured. Both churches and individuals have therefore been urged to found such scholarships by the gift of $500. At the beginning of this year three had been founded: one by the First Presbyterian church of Saginaw, (W. S.), another by an honored member of the church Mr. Thomas Merrill, the third by Mr. C. P. Colvin of South Saginaw. The gift of Mr. Merrill provides that the student who is to have the benefit of this income shall be selected by the President of the College and the trustees of the First Presbyterian church, of Saginaw. This provision seems most wise for several reasons. The worthiness of the person will be fully ascertained and the church will be kept in more intelligent sympathy with the College. With such an arrangement there is hardly any probability of the misappropriation of funds.

During the present year others have been taken as follows:

Rev. D. M. Cooper, D. D.,	Detroit, Mich.
Mr. Leonard Laurens,	Detroit, Mich.
Mr. John Seely,	Caro, Mich.
The Union Cong'l and Presb. church,	Milford, Mich.
Mr. John H. Plum,	Indianapolis, Ind.

Prize Scholarships.

I. FOR GRADUATES OF DISTRICT SCHOOLS.

Alma College offers three prize scholarships to be competed for by the graduates of the district schools of Gratiot county.

First Prize.—A scholarship in Alma College for one year, worth $30.

Second Prize.—A scholarship for two terms, worth $20.

Third Prize.—A scholarship for one term, worth $10.

Competitors for these prizes are examined by the County Board of Examiners at the same time the eighth grade pupils from the district schools are examined. These prize pupils are entitled to enter the Preparatory Department of Alma College without further examination.

II. FOR GRADUATES OF HIGH SCHOOLS.

One prize scholarship worth $30 is offered to that student in each of the high schools of St. Louis, Alma and Ithaca, who graduates with the highest average standing in June, 1896. The record of standing should cover the last two years of the school course. This scholarship is not intended to be competitive among the high schools mentioned.
